Reflected Gender Stereotyping : A Peep into the World of Advertisements

Dr. Aparnita Bhattahcharjee
Associate Professor of History
Midnapore College (Autonomous)

What is Stereotypes

- A generalized view or pre-conception about attributes or characteristics that are or ought to be possessed by members of a particular social group or the roles that are or should be performed by, members of a particular social group.

Stereotyping .....

- This implies that it is important to examine how advertisements construct specific notions on people and issues.
- In social psychology, a stereotype is a fixed, over generalized belief about a particular group or class of people. By stereotyping we infer that a person has a whole range of characteristics and abilities that we assume all members of that group have.

What is gender stereotype and what is gender stereotyping?

- Gender stereotype is a generalized view or preconception about attributes, or characteristics that are or ought to be possessed by women and men or the roles that are or should be performed by men and women. Gender stereotypes can be both positive and negative for example, “women are caring” or “women are weak”.

Gender Stereotyping & Gramsci's Cultural Hegemony

- The theory of stereotyping emerges from Gramsci's concept of 'cultural hegemony'. It states that the dominant ideologies tend to become dominant social discourses and find space and acceptance across various domains including the media.
- Gender stereotyping is one such dominant ideology which is used and re-constructed by the media. Advertising images have been reflective of the stereotypical gender images – a dimension of hegemonic ideological discourse.

Traditional perception

- Through the ages across the countries men are considered as breadwinners, decision makers, career-focused and independent, whereas women are made responsible for the well being of their families linked in to their roles as loving wife, caring mother and low-positioned worker, undertaking the bulk of house hold work.
